

NEW Assessor award!

Carry out the Assessment Process (SCQF level 7)

Who is this qualification for?

This qualification was designed to meet the needs of those who wish to gain recognition for the role they perform as an assessor.

Individuals would gain their qualification by providing evidence of their competence as a working assessor.

This evidence may be generated in a variety of differing assessment contexts – for example

- Assessing candidates for a First Aid Certificate in a simulated environment
- Assessing PC Passport or other in an open access centre, training rooms or classroom.
- Assessing in-house competencies, safety training, health & safety or any other type of non-VQ.

- What types of qualifications should I be assessing to achieve this unit?

This qualification is intended for those who undertake any form of assessment other than N/SVQs.

This could be Customised Awards; National Qualifications; Higher Nationals; HN units; Core Skills; In-house competencies and many other types of assessment.

- How do I gain the qualification?

Firstly by attending a one or half-day training and induction course. After this you will carry out your normal types of assessment and your dedicated assessor will provide help and support for you to gather the evidence required to complete the qualification.

What does the course include?

- Induction of the assessor-candidate plus any other advisory visits which will support the candidate and help them to gather and collate their evidence
- All support (both telephone and on line)
- Portfolio and all related materials including full standards
- Final resulting to SQA which will generate certification to candidate to prove achievement of qualification
- All travel costs incurred with the visits listed above, within Aberdeenshire/Morayshire.
